

Respect the Difference, Value the Mix.

An interactive DVD and training guide for employers, staff and trainers, examining diversity issues within the workplace and demonstrating the legal, moral and business case for employers.

For GoSkills, the sector skills council for passenger transport.

An IVCA Clarion winner.

A diverse group of actors, incorporating real disabilities, ethnic backgrounds, sexual preferences and faiths play characters in scenes covering sexuality, gender, disability, age, race and religion.

The menu is based on a series of 'red herrings', so the character chosen doesn't represent the obvious category.

Researched, written, cast, directed and edited by DVA for GoSkills. Composed in-house, even the music was designed to be diverse in style.

Rebecca Harvey, Capability and Capacity Programme Manager at Government Skills said: "The DVD challenged my own stereotypes in an interesting and enjoyable way. The scenarios made the case for diversity in a sometimes amusing, but always moving, way. Well done GoSkills!"
